MARRIED.

On Thursday evening, the 26th ultimo, by Augustus C. Horton, Esq., Mr. Green B. Wynn,

Volume IV 1836 . 1838

to Miss Mary Ann Clopton, daughter of Dr. Thomas Clopton, all of Putnam County.

At the Reserve, on the 25th ultimo, Major Thomas J. Clark, of Elberton, to Miss Sarah Bowen. of Carroll County, youngest daughter of Christopher Bowen.

DIED.

At his residence in Jackson County, on the 11th ultimo, after a very painful and protracted illness from dropsy, Mr. James Glenn, in his 74th year. He was born in Hanover County, Virginia, but carried to North Carolina when a child, where he resided until North Carolina became the scene of Gen. Greene and Cornwallis' operations. Upon seeing a foreign foe laying waste his country, his youthful heart felt the flames of liberty, he grasped the sword and buckled it on, then seizing his rifle, he march forth for the relief of his country, (in that time almost overrun by Tories), and shortly afterward joined

Gen. Greene's army, and on his birthday (the day he was fifteen) he started in the dangers and toils of the memorable battle at Gilford' Courthouse, and also in the battle of Hobkirk's Hill, near Camden, in South Carolina. For two years or upwards he was almost constantly in the service of his country, and frequently engaged in skirmishes with the Tories. In 1791 he removed to Georgia, and in the same year he sought and obtained the pardons of his sins.
